

Microsoft Consulting as a Service

Your Dedicated Microsoft Engineering Team

Microsoft is usually one of the largest line items on the IT budget, yet it's one of the least-managed. Internal teams are stretched thin and the strategic side of the environment gets pushed to whenever there's time. There usually isn't.

Microsoft Consulting as a Service (MCaaS) gives you a dedicated team of senior Microsoft engineers who continuously plan, improve, and support your environment on a structured cadence. Instead of waiting for tickets, our built-in support model maintains a forward-looking roadmap, executes prioritized engineering work, and proactively addresses security, configuration, and cost optimization across your Microsoft ecosystem.

The result is a Microsoft environment that actually moves forward — instead of running in place.

What You Get

Direct access to senior Microsoft engineers

12-month roadmap, maintained and executed

Ongoing engineering sessions and improvements

Quarterly licensing reviews to reduce waste
